We present to you a privileged location where the sea and the mountains meet to offer a unique environment. This property combines spaciousness, privacy, and enormous potential to turn it into the perfect Mediterranean home.

The villa sits on a large plot surrounded by a mature, low-maintenance garden that allows for a complete perimeter around the house. You will find a wooden shed ideal for storing outdoor furniture, as well as several storage spaces distributed throughout the property. It also has a gas house, a private water well, and two independent accesses to the home.

The outdoor area offers everything needed to enjoy the Jávea climate:
