The road climbs away from the coast through cork oak and pine, passing through the gates into El Madroñal, one of the Costa del Sol's most private and established communities, where nature takes centre stage. Built with respect for Andalusian architecture and the surrounding landscape, the house sits naturally within its setting. Blending Andalusian character with subtle Scandinavian influences, it combines understated luxury with enduring quality.

Set within a private estate of more than 9,600 m², the property enjoys a rare sense of space and privacy. Facing south and west, it offers open views of the Mediterranean Sea, rolling hills, and surrounding mountains. Perfectly positioned within the community, it remains just...(Ask for More
