A fully productive tropical fruit estate, complete with private residence, guaranteed water supply and equipment included

In the heart of the Axarquía, the Málaga region recognised as Europe's leading destination for tropical fruit growing, stands this spectacular 23600 m² estate. A rare opportunity for those seeking more than just a property: the chance to acquire a way of life and an established agricultural business, with its own production, proven profitability, and a stunning rural setting at the foot of the Málaga mountains.

This is not simply land with a house. It is a living, fully operational estate that generates income from
