Some homes are not just lived in; they are truly felt. Living in the heart of the Antequera region-in the idyllic village of Cuevas de San Marcos-means choosing a more serene and authentic lifestyle, surrounded by light and nature in the very center of Andalusia.

This spacious 221 m2 home provides the perfect setting to create unforgettable memories.

From the moment you step into the entrance hall, the home envelops you with its high ceilings and large wooden windows, allowing warm, natural light to flood in and lending the space a sense of majesty and unique character.

The heart of the home and its special spaces (275 m2 plot):
