Villa in Arenas

€1,395,000

4	4	389m²	4,500m²	N/A

Some homes impress through perfection. Others through personality. This villa in Arenas belongs to the latter category. Natural stone, wood, open spaces and sweeping views of the sea and mountains give the property its own distinctive character. Modernised, yet still deeply connected to Andalusian living. The main house is arranged over two floors. On the ground floor, we find the open-plan living, dining and kitchen area. A natural stone wall with an integrated fireplace forms the focal point of the living room, while large glass doors open the space onto the terrace and surrounding landscape. Adjacent to it is the spacious open-plan kitchen, featuring white cabinetry, a large central island...(Ask for More Details!)
