Two terraces overlooking Plaza de la Merced, open views across Málaga and a tourist rental licence. This renovated two-bedroom penthouse brings together the pleasure of a city home with an established history of holiday letting.

The living room opens onto the main terrace, with the square at your feet. It is a setting for long lunches with friends or a quiet drink as evening settles over the city. A separate rooftop terrace, reached via a staircase, offers another perspective across the rooftops and more space to enjoy life outdoors.

With two bedrooms and two bathrooms, the apartment occupies the seventh floor of a building with
