This unique property offers an excellent opportunity for both private living and hosting events, all within a spacious and versatile setting.

The estate includes a group of houses and a large warehouse-style building currently used for celebrations and gatherings. This impressive space features a fully equipped bar area, a music booth, and ample room for events and barbecues. It also includes an indoor swimming pool, a kitchen, a generous main hall, and bathroom facilities, making it ideal for private parties, family celebrations, or potential business use.

In addition to the event space, the property offers a separate house set on its own plot of land. The
