A rare find for this part of the city: a light, well-proportioned 50 m² apartment with one bedroom, one bathroom and its own private rooftop terrace.

The terrace is what sets this one apart - a genuinely private outdoor space in central Málaga, perfect for morning coffee, evening drinks, or simply somewhere quiet above the street. Inside, the apartment is bright and efficiently laid out, with a built-in wardrobe in the bedroom and air conditioning in both the bedroom and the sitting room.

It also includes a separate storage room and, unusually for the area, a parking space - something anyone who has tried to park in central Málaga will immediately appreciate.
