THIS PROPERTY IS NOT FOR EVERYONE.

If you are seeking a sleek, architect-designed contemporary residence within a conventional urban development - complete with paved roads, street lighting, limited outlooks and neighbouring properties close by - this is not the home for you.

If, however, your priorities are space, privacy, tranquillity, and uninterrupted countryside views - a home set within its own land, where the Andalusian landscape unfolds before you rather than the windows of neighbouring houses - then you may wish to continue.

This is not a show home.
