This three-bedroom townhouse in Guadalmina Pueblo is one of those rare finds you don't come across often - especially in such a prime Marbella location. It does need a full renovation, but that's exactly what makes it such an exciting opportunity. You get to shape it entirely to your taste, whether you're imagining sleek modern finishes, rustic Andalusian charm, or something in between. The location alone makes it worth the effort - just steps from the beach, next to the prestigious Hotel Guadalmina, and surrounded by some of the area's best golf courses.

The home is spread over two floors. Downstairs, there's a cozy living room with a fireplace that opens...(Ask for More Details!)
